Dear David,

Many thanks for your letter detailing your concerns regarding the UK's fishing industry, specifically the use of dredging and the decline in fish stocks.

The fishing industry is an important issue for the Committee and I am sure the Committee will look at this and related concerns during this Parliament. However, the Committee currently has a full programme. We are therefore unable to commit to an inquiry at this time.

Many thanks for bringing this issue to my attention.

Yours sincerely,
Neil Parish
